About Peak Mortgage

We are people who happen to do mortgages. Technically, that’s what we do—help you get financing so you can buy a home—but in reality, we’re your neighbor and your trusted guide through the complicated home-buying process. We work with you to understand your financial situation and set you on a path toward financial responsibility and freedom. We’re here to help you build a future—and buying a house is part of that—but in the end, buying a house is an investment in yourself and your community. And this is exactly why we lend where we live! We are here to welcome you to your new neighborhood!
